DIVORCE
EXPLOSION IN HIGH SCHOOL;
GIRL KILLED

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 WASHINGTON, March 16.—If the internal revenue returns of the United States are indicative of the conditions of the general mass of population, then the country has entered on a period of general prosperity. This barometer of business shows more returns and larger ones than in other recent years and indicates a healthy business and industrial condition.

Although specific figures were not available today at the Treasury from collectors of internal revenue throughout the nation, confidence was expressed on all sides of receiving reports that the payments due March 15 would much more than equal the expectations of officials who had hoped the figure might exceed $400,000,000.

OPTIMISTIC REPORTS
 Highly optimistic reports from all parts of the country, however, flowed into Washington, indicating increases in large financial centers, particularly New York. Special reports from Chicago, although unofficial, predicted that last year's payments there would be exceeded, although first reports were that there would be a reduction at the Illinois metropolis. The Manhattan district of New York, according to Frank K. Bowers, the collector of internal revenue, indicated an increase of $5,000,000. A statement by Bowers last night showed reports for the Manhattan district up to midnight.

EXPLOSION IN HIGH SCHOOL; GIRL KILLED
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 BRAWLEY, March 16.—Explosion which killed a girl and wrecked the building of the Brawley Union High School today, lacked thirty seconds of costing many lives. Had they been postponed that length of time most of 300 students gathered in the school auditorium would have been in the path of the blasts and the death toll would have been counted inevitably by scores.

BLOWN THROUGH WALL
 Hallie Smith, 18 years of age, daughter of Giles Smith, an Imperial Valley rancher, lost her life. Thrown to the floor by the first explosion, she was picked up by Richard Powell, janitor, just as the second blast sounded. This forced her through a brick wall and must have killed her instantly. Powell was blown through a door and one of his hands was mangled so badly that it may have to be amputated.

Catherine Hovey, stenographer to the principal, in her office on the ground floor, was raised several feet in the air by the force of the explosion. She fell to the wrecked floor and was buried in debris. She suffered a wrenched back and severe bruises.

The building, a two-story and basement frame structure, with stucco and brick veneer, is a mass of ruins. The explosion rocked Brawley like an earthquake, and windows for blocks around were shattered by its force. Six brick columns, foggy feet high, in front of the building, were thrown down, and the entrance and entrance corridor were completely demolished.

Catherine Hovey, stenographer to the principal, in her office on the ground floor, was raised several feet in the air by the force of the explosion. She fell to the wrecked floor and was buried in debris. She suffered a wrenched back and severe bruises.

The building, a two-story and basement frame structure, with stucco and brick veneer, is a mass of ruins. The explosion rocked Brawley like an earthquake, and windows for blocks around were shattered by its force. Six brick columns, foggy feet high, in front of the building, were thrown down, and the entrance and entrance corridor were completely demolished.

Every door and window in the structure was blown out, including most of the sashes and frames, and floors in the hall, on both first and second stories, were ripped up like concrete. A concrete slab weighing a ton was thrown 100 feet in air, and came down a block and a half away.

The explosion came from a gasoline gas plant in the basement, which furnished fuel to the ranges in the domestic science department. Miss Smith was in the basement, talking to Powell, the janitor, and Miss Bailey, a teacher. The rest of the students and teachers were in the school auditorium, waiting the time of dismissal, which was 2:15.

LEAK DISCOVERED
 Powell had discovered a leak in the apparatus, and threw a switch to turn it off, a moment after Miss Smith and Miss Bailey, and a few seconds before the time for the dismissal bell to ring. An explosion followed, caused perhaps by an electric spark, and an instant later the second explosion came. It is supposed the first explosion was that of leaking gasoline vapor, outside the apparatus, which set off the vapor inside.

MEXICAN INDIANS MAKE WAR

Vera Cruz Reports Revolt in Which Demand for Land is Shibleth
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 MEXICO CITY, March 16.—It was reported from Vera Cruz today that the Indians in the Tenampa and Hostos districts are on the warpath against landowners, their war cry being "Land for the Indians."

LEAK DISCOVERED
 Powell had discovered a leak in the apparatus, and threw a switch to turn it off, a moment after Miss Smith and Miss Bailey, and a few seconds before the time for the dismissal bell to ring. An explosion followed, caused perhaps by an electric spark, and an instant later the second explosion came. It is supposed the first explosion was that of leaking gasoline vapor, outside the apparatus, which set off the vapor inside.

They fired on the houses of Tenampa, threatening death to numerous small planters who refused to vacate their lands immediately. The terrified citizens telegraphed, imploring immediate aid, to the President of the Republic, the commander of the Federal troops in the State of Vera Cruz, and to the Mayor of Vera Cruz City.

The revolting Indians, styling themselves as true original agrarians, refuse to recognize the agrarian grants by the government Agrarian Commission.

HIGH FINANCE USED TO PROMOTE VAST RUM-RUNNING PI

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 NEW YORK, March 16.—The greatest rum plot since prohibition, conducted by a syndicate of multi-million-dollar businesses has come to light in Sag Harbor, L. I., and in adjacent towns. The syndicate operates broad daylight, in bold defiance of the law and with no interference whatever from the police of Sag Harbor, Montauk, Orient, Shelter Point, Mattituck, Southold or Southampton, through which most of the operations are directed. Some few protests have been directed at the smugglers, but they come from the church people and other sincere prohibitionists, and are taken lightly. The syndicate's political influence appears prodigious.

Four-fifths of the entire whiskey smuggling along the Atlantic Coast is done by this syndicate, according to one estimate, and competition has been ground down to such an extent that all "little fellows," who do not cast their lot with it, find their business life short and precarious.

Several hundred are homeless.

Of the known dead, nine lost their lives when the storm battered the remnants of the town of Savage, badly damaged two months ago by a tornado and carried half a dozen dwellings into Coldwater River.

My Impressions of Lake Arrowhead in Arrowhead Woods

"I cannot conceive of a more restful retreat than Lake Arrowhead in Arrowhead Woods. The grandeur of the great, primeval forest; the silvery sheet of water nestling amid great pine trees older than anyone who roams among them; the quiet solitude of the many verdant glens contrasted with the gaiety and happy voices at the inn; the immensity of the modern improvements wrought by the sponsors of the enterprise—all these and many more recollections impress themselves indelibly upon the visitor's memory.

"To anyone somewhat familiar with the playgrounds of America and Europe, Lake Arrowhead stands out as one of the few spots where dullness is a stranger and where seclusion or social levity are constantly at call."

Supreme Tribunal Hears of Novel Conflict

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) LONDON, March 16.—A debate on the "capitalist system" will be launched by the Socialists in the House of Commons next Tuesday.

Philip Snowden, one of the Socialist leaders, will move the resolution, "That in view of the failure of the capitalist system adequately to utilize and organize the natural resources and productive power or provide the necessary standards of life to the vast numbers of population, and believing the cause of this failure lies in private ownership and control of the means of production and distribution, this House declares that this legislative effort should be directed to a gradual suppression of the capitalist system by industrial and social order, based on public ownership, and democratic control of the instruments of production and distribution."

The Tribune understands Mr. Snowden's action is fully endorsed by his Socialist colleagues generally, who will support him in a division in the lobby. Unionist, Nationalist and Liberal amendments already have been sent to the motion picture that it is inexpedient to change the present system.

Supreme Tribunal Hears of Novel Conflict

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) LONDON, March 16.—A debate on the "capitalist system" will be launched by the Socialists in the House of Commons next Tuesday.

Philip Snowden, one of the Socialist leaders, will move the resolution, "That in view of the failure of the capitalist system adequately to utilize and organize the natural resources and productive power or provide the necessary standards of life to the vast numbers of population, and believing the cause of this failure lies in private ownership and control of the means of production and distribution, this House declares that this legislative effort should be directed to a gradual suppression of the capitalist system by industrial and social order, based on public ownership, and democratic control of the instruments of production and distribution."

The Tribune understands Mr. Snowden's action is fully endorsed by his Socialist colleagues generally, who will support him in a division in the lobby. Unionist, Nationalist and Liberal amendments already have been sent to the motion picture that it is inexpedient to change the present system.

It is believed the petition may be rendered valid as a result of the action. Civic officials say that State law requires that a consolidation petition cannot be supplemented. The official check shows that only sixty-seven names are needed to complete the petition, it being necessary to have one-fourth of the registered voters before an election can be called.

Woman in Breedlove Murder Trial Testifies
Her Letters to Slay Men Read in Court
Husband Expected to Tell of Killing Samples
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH] EL CENTRO, March 16.—Interest ran high today in the trial of Roy Breedlove, in connection with the murder of Rex Samples, in a local hotel more than a year ago. The State finished with its witnesses yesterday and rested. Attorney Seymour opened for the defense this morning by calling Mrs. Breedlove to the stand, where she remained all day, making a confession of her part in the incidents leading up to the murder, which cost Samples his life. She was also under a grueling fire by Prosecuting Attorney E. R. Moore, who cross-examined her this afternoon. Prosecutor Elmon read to the jury several letters which had been exchanged by Mrs. Breedlove and Samples. These were of an affectionate nature. It was brought out that Breedlove knew of the existing situation and the feeling of his wife for Samples for considerable time previous to the shooting. When Mrs. Breedlove had finished her story, character witnesses of El Centro, Long Beach and Yuma, including Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Golt, parents of Mrs. Breedlove, testified as to the previous reputation of the defendant, all declaring it was excellent. At the close of testimony today, the trial was continued until Monday, when, according to Mr. Seymour, the defense will close its case by placing Breedlove in a rooming stand, and giving him an opportunity to tell the jury, as he did at his first trial, which ended in a disagreement, that he slew Samples because of his attentions to Mrs. Breedlove. HARDING'S STAY SOUTH IS ENDED

Leaves Miami Today for Trip Back to Capital

Escapes All Conferences on Vacation Visit

Has Several Callers Merely Paying Respects

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
MIAMI (Fla.) March 16.—President Harding will conclude his stay at Miami Beach tomorrow without having taken part in any conferences, conducted any important official business and without having attended in any way from the three "R's" of his Florida vacation program—rest, relaxation and recreation.

Prior to his arrival at Miami Beach Wednesday, it had been thought that his vacation might be broken in upon during the visit because of the number of political leaders and public men living or spending a vacation in this vicinity. Several of those who indicated they would like to confer with the President were seen by Secretary Christian, while others, including William Jennings Bryan, have realized that the great desire of Mr. Harding during his stay in Florida is to obtain a needed rest.

BYRAN LEAVES CARD
Mr. Bryan, who now is a resident of Miami, called today at the Flamingo cottage, where the President joined Mrs. Harding after returning from his overnight fishing trip.

The former Secretary merely left his card, saying he had no desire to break in on the President's rest. Mr. Harding was lying down at the time, and Mr. Bryan had driven away before he knew of the call. Mr. Bryan previously had told newspaper men there was nothing he could say that would be news, "as it is too early yet to talk politics."

Another who called to leave his card during the afternoon was former Senator T. Coleman Duff of Delaware. The President thus received several callers, including a delegation from the Harvey Keels House, American Legion of Miami, all of the visits being merely to pay respects.

Miami has done its part in aiding the President in obtaining the rest that he needs. There has been a noticeable absence of crowds here, as the President's coming to the other places along the east coast that the President has visited.

FISHING IMPOSSIBLE
The fishing trip down the Cocolo, Fla. bay from which the President returned at 3 p.m. was productive of rest for him, even though it produced no fish. High winds which lashed the ocean into foaming whitecaps prevented the Presidential fishing party from even dropping a line, although an attempt was made under the leadership of Capt. Charles S. Thompson, described by Miami people as "this world's greatest fisherman."

The express cruiser Sea Horse on which the trip to Cocolo was made, was made to leave the minute it got outside the pier and the attempt was given up.

During the President's absence the houseboat Pioneer, on which he made the cruise down from Oremund, left for Palm Beach to be ready to take the Presidential party aboard there tomorrow night, or Sunday and begin the trip northward.

LEAVE MIAMI TODAY
The President and Mrs. Harding will leave here by train late tomorrow for Palm Beach. The President probably will attend church at Palm Beach Sunday morning and the cruise northward will be started late Sunday.

One of the questions asked by the President, returning from the fishing trip was when the Pioneer left, indicating that he didn't relish a repetition of this week's experiences when the houseboat got hung up time after time on sand bars between here and Palm Beach. The first question asked by Mr. Harding, however, was:

"How is Mrs. Harding?"
Last night was the first time he left her overnight since her illness last September and was one of the longest periods the two have been separated, it was said, in several years.

This total will be covered by a bond issue dated December 15, 1932, and expiring in 1984, with interest payable semiannually at a rate of 3 per cent to December 15, 1932, and 3½ per cent for the rest of the term. The bonds will be payable in United States gold coin, and will be issued as far as possible in denominations of $100 each.

On ninety days' notice Great Britain may postpone any payment for a term of not more than two years, but the total payments due for three successive years must be completed by December of the third year. Great Britain also is to have a rebate on thirty days' notice that it will make payments on the principal which at any time will amount to $1,000,000 or multiples.

PSYCHIC PICTURES ON WOOD

Psychic Investigator Delving Into Mystery of Portraits Appearing on Pieces of Flooring

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, March 16.—Howard Carrington, a psychic investigator, and one of the judges named by the Scientific American in connection with its $5000 offer for proof of genuine spirit-talking, writing, drawing or photographing, yesterday began an investigation of the asserted spirit portraits by Mrs. Janet Singh. These are now on exhibition at the gallery of the Society for Independent Artists at the Waldorf Astoria.

Mr. Carrington studied both sides of the pieces of flooring on which these portraits appeared, according to Mrs. Singh, when she merely concentrated her mind on Bible texts. Mr. Carrington was looking for knots which sometimes take an oval shape and with assistance from the graining of the wood or a little human touching up, resembled a portrait. He found a promising knot in one picture, but not on the other.

SEES 'LITTLE TROUBLE'
"I am not able to form any definite opinion on the matter as yet," said Mr. Carrington. "I am going to interview Mrs. Singh and have a look at the pictures under the glass. It might not be difficult to tell just how the thing was done."

The assertion that a picture had formed itself in the permanent fashion on wood was new, according to Mr. Carrington, but he said that Madame Blavatsky, the theosophist, had made similar statements. She asserted pictures were drawn without brush or pencil while she concentrated her gaze on a piece of wood. She called it "precipitation" when the power of thought

NEAR-EAST RELIEF ASSAILED

Greek Refugees Under Organization's Wing Poorly Cared For, Says Col. Haskell; Much Money Spent

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 16.—The refugee situation both in Greece and Russia is being taken care of satisfactorily, Col. William Haskell, director of the American Relief Administration in Russia and of the American Red Cross in Greece, told the Tribune yesterday while passing through here en route to Athens from Moscow.

"The American Relief Administration in Moscow is feeding 3,000,000 children in Russia, while the American Red Cross in Greece is feeding 600,000 of the 800,000 refugees there," he said. "So far as the Constantinople and Anatolia area is concerned, the American Relief Administration and the American Red Cross both have a private agreement with the Near East Relief to confine their work here to the Russians."

Greek refugees here whom the Near East Relief is supposed to take care of number no more than 25,000, which is a drop in the bucket compared with the work of the American Red Cross in Greece, yet relief workers and others visiting the Greek camps here reported the conditions of misery, filth, death and disease are unequalled.

PLAN ORPHANAGES
At the same time the Near East Relief is complaining that it does not have sufficient money to handle this simple problem, the Tribune learns that it is contemplating spending $50,000 in Greece for permanent orphanages which in itself is a commitment which its American subscriber might oppose.

This is one of the reasons that the other relief organizations, which are easily able to take over the complete work, are demanding that the Near East Relief either put up or withdraw. Besides 25,000 persons in Constantinople, the Near East Relief has 12,000 at agreement Great Britain will make a cash payment of $4,128,085.74, leaving a net debt of $4,600,000. This total will be covered by a bond issue dated December 15, 1932, and expiring in 1984, with interest payable semiannually at a rate of 3 per cent to December 15, 1932, and 3½ per cent for the rest of the term. LONDON, March 16.—Pleading for the support of the Crosby Hall endowment fund this afternoon at Chelsea, Lady Astor said it would attract large crowds of Americans this summer. The scheme is being promoted by the British Federation of University Women to further assist research work among women graduates and linking friendly relations among the educated women of the world. Queen Mary, Prince George and many court notables were present at the matinee, given at Chelsea Palace, to aid the cause.

Bellehurst Park

A Garden of Gold for Buyers Today

Our purpose; to create for Southern California the ideal residence park—one that will rival and excel in beauty the thousand acres of home parks we have developed for Northern California in Piedmont and the Lake District of Oakland—one that will make you money!

Grand Pre-Opening Sale Saturday and Sunday

Our first announcement to the people of Los Angeles!—

Coming from the San Francisco Bay region, where we have successfully developed twenty-one residence parks, we combed this section over to find the finest piece of undeveloped land that lay outdoors.

We found it!

In majestic beauty and as a money maker for our buyers, it exceeds our wildest hopes!

Two hundred acres in the heart of Glendale—an old estate—with palms, live oaks, magnolias, orange, olive, and lemon groves—like an enchanted garden in the midst of the city!

Only five blocks from the business center of the fastest growing city in America.

Being our first development in Southern California, we are resolutely determined to lavish on this magnificent property the fruit of twenty years' experience and make it absolutely the best.

No temporary buildings, duplexes, apartments or bungalow courts permitted—only single family dwellings costing $4000, $5000, $6000 and $7500—according to location.

High class street improvement with curbs and sidewalks free to purchasers, now being rushed to completion.

City water, gas, and electricity guaranteed to every lot. Big lots—nearly all 50, 60 or 70 feet front, covered with orange, lemon, grapefruit, and forty year old olive trees.

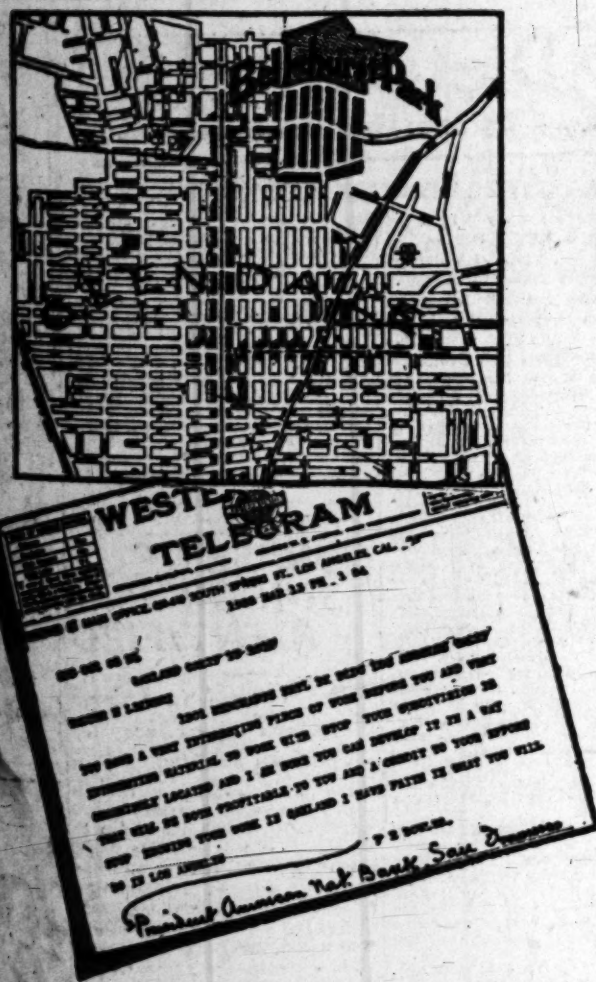

Four schools within five blocks. 2 blocks from Pacific electric trains on Brand Boulevard, Glendale's main boulevard.

We want you buyers in our first tract in Southern California to make simply huge profits. We want to get started here right. Hence our prices are only about $\frac{1}{4}$ of the figure justified by this wonderful property, our high class improvements, and the wildfire growth of Glendale. You practically make a 100% profit to start with.

NEW BANK OF ITALY OPEN

Thousands Inspect Handsome New Structure Dedicated to Financial Growth of Los Angeles

Through the entire day with an admiring crowd of visitors who were piloted on a tour of inspection to every section of the building, the Bank of Italy formally threw open the doors to its magnificent new establishment at Seventh and Olive streets yesterday morning. cordially welcoming the public with a two-day "open house" reception. It was estimated by bank officials last night that more than 25,000 people had visited and been conducted through the building yesterday.

Of imposing sixteenth century Italian renaissance architecture, the interior of the bank from top to bottom blazed forth with countless floral decorations, many of them gifts from banks and officials in all parts of the country. A large corps of ushers familiar with every aspect of the architectural intricacies as well as with the more intricate banking operations, acted as escorts and conducted large groups of guests to all the interesting parts of the building. In the reception line yesterday were many of the foremost financial and business men of the city.

RECEPTION CONTINUES

The bank's public reception will continue until 10 o'clock tonight, at which time the doors will be closed and furniture moved in for the institution of business operations Monday morning. Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, more than

WOOLWINE REPLIES TO GIRL'S SUIT

District Attorney Denies All Charges in Asserted Slander Action

Emphatic denial of all charges made against him by Miss Ida Wright Jones, former juvenile investigator, was made late yesterday afternoon by Dist. Atty. Woolwine in answer to the woman's suit for $25,000 damages for asserted slander.

The answer, prepared by Attorneys Ford, Bodkin, Watts and Herlihy, representing Mr. Woolwine, reiterates that Miss Jones was dismissed from the service by her chief "for cause" and enters into a complete denial of her assertions that she was intimate with Mr. Woolwine.

It denies that Mr. Woolwine published or caused to be published anything tending to reflect upon the character and conduct of Miss Jones, and asserts that there was no animosity in her dismissal.

Mr. Woolwine admits, however, that he wrote the letter which Miss Jones has incorporated in her complaint and on which she is basing her suit for damages. The letter was written, the answer states, on information given by the District Attorney by Jesse D. Hunter and Hal Bland, both employed in the District Attorney's office.

Both Bland and Hunter are said to have told Mr. Woolwine that Miss Jones in their presence had threatened to "screw his life" both politically and socially and also had stated she would sell information in her possession to Mr. Woolwine's enemies for $10,000 and then leave the State, the answer recites.

Miss Jones also has another suit pending against Mr. Woolwine to force him to certify to her salary since her dismissal last May. In this suit she asserts that she was threatened to "screw his life" both politically and socially and also had stated she would sell information in her possession to Mr. Woolwine's enemies for $10,000 and then leave the State, the answer recites.

New Deep Oil Well Comes in at Signal Hill

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, March 16.—The deepest oil well in California and one of the deepest in the country, Stakeholder No. 2, was brought in by the Shell Oil Company last night at Vene and Catalina avenues, at a depth of 5011 feet.

The well is deeper by about 100 feet than any other well in the State, according to reports. Its flow of 4000 barrels a day has revived interest in a part of the Signal Hill field which has been regarded as dry, and is expected to result in an immediate resumption of activity on wells in the vicinity.

The well is on the shoulder of the south slope of Signal Hill, overlooking Catalina avenue valley. The well was started Oct. 23, 1922, and work has proceeded without interruption since then.

JACK PICKFORD IS NAMED IN LIQUOR INVESTIGATION

Film Star's Gin Checks Seized in Raids; Sister Lottie Also to be Questioned

The name of Jack Pickford and that of his sister, Mrs. Alan Forrest, known on the screen as Lottie Pickford, are but two of a score of those to appear before the Federal grand jury for investigation, Federal Prohibition Agent H. H. Dolley declared yesterday, as the result of a series of raids Thursday night, which, he says, uncovered a Coast-wide conspiracy to violate the Federal prohibition laws.

Besides the Pickfords he has evidence against a number of well-known business men, motion picture actors and actresses, besides several others not so prominent, Mr. Dolley declares.

All of the information gathered in the raids has been placed in the hands of U. S. Dist. Atty. Burke for submission to the Federal grand jury.

Mr. Burke declared yesterday that the asserted plot and its ramifications already had been found to be extensive and that all information in his hands would be closely guarded until such time as it could be turned over to the grand jury.

Assorted clients of five men now in jail on charges of violation of the Federal prohibition laws were scouring widely for cover yesterday, according to Mr. Dolley.

Backed by four attorneys, Jack Pickford appeared at Mr. Dolley's office yesterday morning and demanded that he be permitted to go before the Federal grand jury and explain how two of his bank checks happened to be found in the hands of two asserted bootleggers.

At a consultation with Mr. Burke, it was decided that Pickford was merely attempting to "take an immunity bath," and his request was denied.

Then, through his attorneys the young screen actor asked that he be allowed to make a statement to Dolley in the presence of his four attorneys. This request, too, was denied.

SLAYER TELLS TALE ON STAND

Man Who Killed Policeman Reviews Events

Dizzy From Blows on Head, Fired Fatal Shot

Says Watchman Attempted to End His Life

Isaac Wolfgang, on trial in Judge McCormick's court for the killing last November of Patrolman Oliver Dinmore, yesterday took the stand in his own defense. He declared that the patrolman had beaten him so severely with his club prior to the shooting that he was in a daze when he fired the fatal shot.

Wolfgang, a shabby figure, told his story in broken English, and with much groping for words to express his meaning, and to tell why he had shot the man who had placed him under arrest and taken two bottles of milk from in front of a store.

He asserted that after the shooting he was thrown to the floor by a private watchman, H. A. Rude, who had witnessed the affair, and that Rude had placed the patrolman's revolver in his face and pulled the trigger twice, the hammer clicking uselessly both times. Wolfgang said he had seen to see as a mere stripling, and had worked before the mast until he was 4 years of age, when he forsook his calling, coming to Los Angeles shortly after. He obtained work here and rented a furnished room.

TELLS HIS STORY

The witness testified that on the morning of November 4 he rose at 4:30 o'clock, as was his custom, and went to the street. He saw a case of milk on the sidewalk in front of a store, the doors of which were not yet open. He was thirsty, so he took two bottles and started to return to his room. He had not yet reached the room when he heard some one call to him and knew that he was in trouble.

Patrolman Dinmore grabbed him, the witness said, and started to lead him to a call box. Wolfgang said he was afraid and tried to run. "Let me go to my room and get my money first," Wolfgang asked, but the patrolman demurred, the witness said.

They were arguing the matter, Wolfgang testified, when Rude, who had seen the incident, came up the street. Rude, Wolfgang said, urged Dinmore to use his club on the prisoner, and Dinmore did so, striking him on the head. Wolfgang continued to urge that he be permitted to get his money, and Rude finally advised the patrolman to let him go. Dinmore agreed, and they went to Wolfgang's room, the witness said.

DIZZY FROM BLOWS

By this time, according to the testimony, Dinmore had hit the prisoner on the head about five times with his club, and Wolfgang was dizzy. In his room he opened the drawer of his bureau and had started to take therefrom a small roll of bills, about $35, when, he charged, Dinmore struck him again. He said he was dizzy and saw through a dizzy haze, saw the patrolman reach for his gun.

The witness then explained that since earliest boyhood he had been taught that if you are confronted with a man who means to kill you, the thing to do is to kill him first. He said he believed that Dinmore meant to kill him, and that, scarcely realizing what he did, he reached in the drawer for his own revolver, turned it around and shot. The patrolman crumpled to the floor, fatally wounded.

Wolfgang said that Rude, then leaped upon him, bore him to the

ASSERT DAME RUMOR ERRS

Gossip Has Virginia Faire and H. H. Van Loan Engaged Before He Has Obtained Divorce

"Oh with the old before you're on with the new" does not necessarily apply in the matter of engagements and reported betrothals these days. This statement is borne out by the rumor that the marriage bans of Virginia Brown Faire, pulchritudinous cinema leading woman, and H. H. Van Loan, writer and scenarist, (the terms are not synonymous) are to be published as soon as Mr. Van Loan obtains his divorce decree.

The Hollywood gossip and their heads knowingly in discussing this, the latest matrimonial affair of the cinema world. Their remarks anent the prospective Faire-Van Loan nuptials have more than an accustomed tone of authority. They tell of sleep lost by the lady as the sequel to nocturnal telephone calls, as automobile rides with her impending fiancé.

LADY DENIES IT
But the lady denies the report and the potential bride-groom is journeying over the land telling the world how he attained greatness and wealth with his typewriter, returning to Hollywood, however, a bona fide engagement. He was in the city last night, but could not be located.

"The rumor is absurd. Becoming engaged to marry is not being done these days," was Miss Faire's comment. "We are simply friends, and cannot be more than that. I am still married to my wife, although they have been separated for more than two years, and although he has applied for a divorce."

"Of course, I know Mr. Van Loan," she said.

IRISH NIGHT ON KHIJ PROGRAM

Ann Kavanaugh's Stories of Old Erin Please
Radio Fans Hear Variety of Fine Music

Dr. Hines Presents Cornet Quartet at Noon

BY IREN A. MAHKKON
It is always a gala night when Ann Kavanaugh arranges a program for KHIJ. Last night was not only a gala but Gaelic as well, for it possessed an Irish spirit that was in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

As a reader Ann Kavanaugh is truly irascible. She is a character, a personality, with a trenchant wit and a suggestive expression. Her brogue is a delight and she masters the pathos as easily as she does the rollicking tendencies of Erin's people.

"Stories of the Streets and Towns of Old Ireland," and "The Story of a New York Hotel," were her contributions. Her program was so rich that it should have been carried through "to St. Patrick's Day in the Morning."

None need intercede for Grace Bradley Tallman, soprano. She sings with reliance and confident beauty, attaining the vocal objects of her selections with pleasing ease. With the splendid accompaniment of Mary O'Donoghue, she sang "First Love Song," by O'Hara, "There's no Death," by O'Hara, and "Noon," by Branscombe.

Another singer to whom eulogy is justly due is Ellen Corlett Williams, contralto, who, accompanied by Gladys Pepper, sang "The Little Damselle," by Novel, "You Better Ask Me," by Lohr, "Fear at the Spring," by Beach, "Morning," by Del. Miss Tallman is a friendly, inviting note to her voice which never puts the theme of a composition into the distance, but draws it close in a warm embrace of vocal loveliness.

PIANIST ON PROGRAM
Ida Selby Donnell, pianist, gave to "Barcarolle in G Minor," by Rachmaninoff, a gently-swaying cadence and subtle, harmonious interpretation. In "A Country Garden," by Percy Grainger, she caught the fragrance, the rustic beauty of the selection, and visualized in music the vault of a blue summer sky, green vistas of fields, and the glad songs of birds.

Hold your sides when Mrs. Charles Post, reader, steps up to the microphone and delivers one of her funny selections. Prepared to dry your eyes when she chooses to do so, she tips emotions at will with an ability truly histrionic. Last night she gave "Rationalism," "Creation," "Quintessence of Baroque," and "The Old Apple Woman."

Frank Herrmann, basso, knows that values of melody and of theme are appropriate to a powerful voice. His is the ingredients of a basso's success together with the craftsmanship. Witness his own compositions which he sang last night, accompanied by Adele Dorothy Laugh, "Twilight," and "Longing." Do you see? It is the blending of depth of meaning with a depth of voice designed to attain the very finest expression. Another of his numbers was "Sylvia," by Olay Speaks.

Katral 9 p.m.: That's the way the program reads about the name of Virginia Fisher, soprano. The exclamation point has been added because her radio appearance was sufficiently important to warrant it. Bring on your garlands and let the woodland nymphs array themselves in spring splendor. Her voice is like a fresh breeze that wakes the lark to sing and causes the wild flowers to open their petals in rapt wonder.

THE APRIL FRESHET
When sang to the pulsing accompaniment of Gertrude Tompkins, "Thou Wondrous Youth," with lyrics obligingly by Ronald Faulkner, "The Wind," by Moya, "Song of Songs," by Moya, "Look for the Silver Lining," from "Rally" (by request), and "Love in Springtime," by Moya. With the piano accompaniment and flute obbligato the numbers were like an April freshet singing its way down flowering canyons.

Ronald Faulkner, flutist, accompanied by Gertrude Tompkins, also favors with a solo, "Serenade to a Lady," by Gabriel-Marie. Colorado lost an aspiring musician when he came to California. He will have no trouble in finding himself a welcome note in Los Angeles music circles. He plays on the flute, and is a fine accompanist. What is that manuscript you have in your pocket? We know it is not a simple thing interesting and inspiring because it is the reputation which your lectures have established. "The Newspaper Habit," that is a title that strikes pretty close to home. And the subject matter strikes even closer. Think of the current events, you say. All that is sound advice. Learn to discriminate on news values and editorial opinions. Think for yourself concerning what you have read. Nothing trite in the way you say things. Dooter. You should in pep and humor. Your eulogy of the power of the press, your description of the mission and achievement of newspapers, were well taken. Molders of world destiny they are indeed and also a curriculum of knowledge, as you said.

YOUTHFUL ARTIST
The future looms bright for Marian Newberry, mezzo-soprano, 15 years of age, who appeared as the children's program. She has sung for Mrs. Cady, who predicted that she will be able to sing "Carmen" in three years. She studied in New York City. Prof. William Green, accompanied by Mrs. Marian Gordon, Miss Newberry sang "O Sole Mio," "La Capota," "Dreams of Long Ago," by Caruso, and "Smiling Through," by Penn.

Kathleen M. Shippen, pianist, is a former resident of Paris and New York, whose reputation is constantly growing. Her schooling was of basic worth. Several notable of Europe and America contributed to her musical education and subsequent success as a concert pianist. She studied with William H. Sherwood at the Chicago Conservatory of Music and was graduated from the Institute of Musical Art, New York. Her selections yesterday evening included "On the Wings of Song," by Mendels-

TO WORSHIP IN NEW HOMES

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church to be Dedicated Tomorrow; Lutherans Purchase New Temple

Rejoicing in the completion of their $35,000 temple of worship, at West Jefferson street and Third avenue, the young men and women members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will be busy today decorating the new edifice with flags and flowers in preparation for the dedicatory services which will be conducted tomorrow.

At the morning hour the sermon will be preached by Dr. Hugh K. Walker, president of the Church Federation and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, while the dedication sermon in the evening will be by Rev. William H. Flahum. At 3 p.m. a fellowship rally will be conducted in which the neighborhood ministers of many denominations will participate and offer congratulations and promises of support to Rev. William Gordon Miller, who has been the pastor of the church for ten years, and who has built the congregation up to a membership of nearly 500.

Although nominally a Presbyterian church, St. Paul's is, in reality, a community church, and the congregation, composed of members of various denominations and of people belonging to no denomination, meet regularly to worship their common Father and to plan for the welfare of all His children. The new church, which seats about 600 persons, is an addition to the old building which is still in excellent condition and which will be used for Sunday school and Bible class rooms.

Lutherans in New Home
Recognizing the need for a Lutheran church in the Wilshire district, Rev. E. T. Corner organized the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Epiphany last October, and he and his forty-two parishioners rented a small hall on Arlington avenue in which to conduct divine services.

However, the Rev. Mr. Corner soon decided that paying big rent for a little church was poor policy from both business and ecclesiastical standpoints, and he is having been Judge Thomas of the Friends Church, Rev. Burton I. Neil, pastor of the Methodist Church of Los Angeles, Mrs. E. J. Seaman, who will be in general charge of the program, and Miss Irma Thomas, soloist. Community singing will feature the dawn service.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"Substance" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in each of the fourteen Christian Science churches of Los Angeles. First, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth churches will repeat this service at 8 o'clock, and Second Church at 10 o'clock.

THE LOST WORD
Dr. John F. Fisher, dean of the theological school of the University of Southern California, will be the speaker tomorrow morning at the First Methodist Church, Trinity Auditorium, the topic of the sermon being "The Lost Word."

TO DISCUSS BOXING
Following the showing of the picture "The Road to Berlin," at the Temple Baptist Church tomorrow evening, Dr. J. H. Whitcomb, pastor of the church, will present a series of lectures on "Boxing, How to Win It." In a prelude Dr. Brougher will discuss the question "Should the State Permit Round Boxing?"

CONQUEST OF FEAR
Rev. William MacCormack, D. D., dean of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, will preach tomorrow morning at the Scottish Rite auditorium, on "The Dimensions of the Love of God." In the evening, Dean MacCormack will open the question box and will answer the following queries: What is the conquest of fear? Would St. Patrick approve of the acts of the Republicans in Ireland? Who won in the controversy between Dr. Grant and Bishop Manning? Do you agree with the Methodist bishop in California in regard to Darwinism?

ANGELUS TEMPLE
Mrs. Ames S. McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple, will present a series of lectures on "The Conquest of Fear" at 8 p.m. tomorrow evening at the church.

POWER OF A VISION

THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR

It seems that in France there is only one divorce to thirteen marriages. We can do better than that in this country. In some sections we have worked it out so fine that every other wedding is good for a divorce. But if every thirteenth marriage in France ends in a divorce we are to assume that thirteen is an unlucky number?

WEAR AND TEAR

A bronze statue of George Washington which has been on view at the national capital for seventy years has had to be taken down for repairs. No wonder that life at the capital is hard on our great men if a bronze Washington wears out in seventy years. Uncle Joe Cannon was a wonder to hang on for more than half a century.

NO STUMBLING BLOCK

There are a lot of sticklers who argue that science and religion are in hopeless conflict. But the ablest and brightest scientists cling tenderly to their religion and the sweetest minds in the church have no hesitation in accepting the findings of science. Evolution is no stumbling block to faith, neither is faith embarrassed in the presence of Charles Darwin. It all depends on whether a man wants to be kindly and charitable or only argue about it.

SAVE OUR WOMEN

A local judge serves notice that husbands or lovers who practice civeman methods will get jolts when they come into his court. He is a disciple of the Victorian school, which holds that no man should ever lay his hand upon a woman save in the way of kindness. When the husband in a divorce case admitted that he might have punched his wife's head a few times the judge regretted that he could not send him to the gallows. All jurists are not so bitter, but there isn't much patience with wife-beaters in any court. Nevertheless there are a number of husbands who think that when they get a marriage certificate it carries the same privileges as a dog license. The courts, however, are going to make it plain that that is no way to treat a lady.

A CHANCE DECISION

Now that Frank Chance is guiding the destinies of the Boston Red Sox he announces that his performers must cut out the golf. If they want to play anything at all they will have to be baseball or poker. He doesn't want any golf bugs in his line-up. The fact that Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth and George Sisler are golf nuts makes no difference to the Peerless Leader. He holds that a baseball player's whole allegiance must be to his game and it will not do for him to get the habit of flirting with a bunch of golf sticks. On the other hand, there are managers who concede the possibility of golf as a help to baseball. It steadies the player and gives him more accuracy in placing his hits. And there you are. Take your choice—but there isn't any choice in Boston. Not a Chance.

MORE UNDESIRABLES

There is complaint and scandal over the operations of the La Follette Seaman's Act. Under its provisions crews of foreign ships landing here are under no particular guard or restraint. They may have shore leave that can be extended for sixty days. As it is, there are ships from Mediterranean countries with double crews. The men are permitted to land and, after landing, they disappear into the maelstrom of the big cities. The immigration law would forbid any more admissions from their countries, but they come in the guise of seamen and after that they are lost track of. Several vessel captains are said to be making good money and running their ships at a minimum of expense in this way. Men are willing to pay for the privilege of being counted as a part of the crew. As a rule those who come into the country by this means are undesirable citizens, at best.

TREE PLANTING

All who love trees have an opportunity to join the American Tree Association. Taking out a membership is, in fact, prima facie evidence of the nature lover, since to be an eligible candidate for this national association one must first of all have planted a tree. That is the one and only requirement.

The association is composed entirely of tree lovers and its sole aim and end is to help preserve our forests and to encourage tree planting.

Theodore Roosevelt once said, "A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as helpless. When you help to preserve our forests or to plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizens."

So to a good citizen who has planted a tree for the love of his country a certificate of membership in the American Tree Association is a pledge of patriotism and a proof of a generous disposition.

The idea of tree lovers combining for the beautifying of our landscapes and the advance of forestry is one of so wide and generous appeal that it should arouse a national sentiment on this important subject. The American Tree Association is educational and practical. It will forward to any of its members the advice of experts and specialists on any matter connected with trees and tree planting and will answer special questions submitted to it in particular cases.

OUR INTERNATIONAL RIGHTS

Elihu Root, recognized as one of the greatest living authorities on international law, has cleared the diplomatic atmosphere somewhat by telling the National Civic Federation that our government has no justifiable reason or pretext to interfere in the present Franco-German controversy.

Among other things, he said: "Many people wanted us to stop France from going into the Ruhr. We have no more right to do that than France would have to come over here and make us naturalize the Japanese. We have no right to attempt to mediate unless both countries are willing. An inquiry was made, apparently to ascertain if they were, and it seemed they were not. That ended it."

Mr. Root only reaffirms what has been said repeatedly during the last four or five years. A door must either be open or shut. We are either in the League of Nations or out of it. Our Senate elected that we should stay out. It bound us to the old diplomacy of balances of power. As far as we are concerned, no nation has the right of interfering anywhere in the world, unless its own special interests are jeopardized.

We are placed in a position where our government must shrug its shoulders at crime, so long as we are not ourselves the victims. If big nations decide to enslave little nations, that is not our affair. It is true that there have been two notable instances when we departed from that policy: we sent troops to Cuba and we joined in the invasion of China when the Boxers were getting the upper hand. But neither of those expeditions was based on any right that we possessed under the recognized laws of nations, except the right of the strongest.

When no nation recognizes a higher authority than its own government and courts there can be no protection in the world for the weaker peoples. International relations are governed wholly by might. Where there is no penalty there can be no legal crime.

In his address to the National Civic Federation Mr. Root dwelt at some length on the limitations which are placed on governments. On this subject he said:

"The duty to respect independence places a limit on what we can and ought to do in regard to the affairs of others and what we will permit them to do regarding our own affairs. In the course of the growth of civilization there have been developed ways in which nations can help one another, certain good offices—mediation, conciliation, arbitration—various forms of compulsion, justified only when the nation exercising it does so in asserting its own rights; and then it has only the right to assert its own."

In other words, no nation can interfere except to protect its own. If we see a bandit holding up our next-door neighbor at the point of a gun we are not permitted to intervene. All that we are permitted to do is to barricade our own door and to arm ourselves for self-defense. Under such a system of international diplomacy it is not surprising that we should always see strong nations strutting about the earth and robbing weaker ones. So long as they attack only where they are certain that they are the stronger they are secure in their policy of plunder.

To right-thinking people such a policy is intolerable. It is a subject of justice. It would not be surprising if a civilization so morally weak that it dares not challenge crime when another is being robbed or murdered should follow older civilizations that were similarly weak to ruin and oblivion. We cannot offer the excuse of ignorance of what is taking place elsewhere; we can only, like Cain, deny our responsibility for what does not immediately concern us.

President Harding and Secretary Hughes have made an effort to extricate the nation from so cowardly and humiliating a position. They have proposed as the first step that we shall accept membership in the International Court of Justice, which is the concrete expression of an idea born in our own country. A generation ago our Senate was no so weak as the one that adjourned a few days ago. Perhaps the new Senate will be composed of men possessing greater vision and courage—perhaps some of those who voted against joining the International Court will realize their error. At least we are permitted to hope.

CANADA DISSENTS

Although the English at times rise to a height that thrills the breasts of all of Anglo-Saxon blood and awakens a spirit of emulation in Slav, Teuton and Latin, they seem destined to be a nation of shopkeepers. They are continuously away by an instinct to unite patriotism with profit. They make heroic sacrifices, but they have an uncanny way of exacting cash on delivery.

Somewhat the oil of Mosul, the cotton of Egypt and the silk of India, the wheat fields of Canada, the fur and fisheries of the Far North, the Bank of the West and the tea of Ceylon always count for something in their international diplomacy. The only justification for such a policy seems to be found in the fact that a nation that is economically dependent cannot be politically disinterested.

Casting about for means to raise additional revenue with which to discharge its war debt to the United States, the House of Commons has under consideration a proposal to place a tax on all American books and periodicals entering the United Kingdom. But it must not be considered in the light of a tariff. Bless you, no; Great Britain is an exponent of the Democratic principle of free trade. The dead voices of Cobden and Bright still speak through the living, but—

And behind that "but" is the ingenious argument that a restriction must be placed on American literature in order that there shall be a better market for the literature of the great self-governing dominion to the north of us. According to the speakers in the House of Commons this tax is not proposed to supply additional revenue, but to encourage an infatuation in Canada.

It is not that Wells, Chesterton, Galworthy, Bennett and Shaw cannot meet American competition. It is not that we make better books for less money or superior books for an equal price. Perish the thought! But it is to help the Canadians. They are the wards of the mother country; they must not be safeguarded from Yankee competition.

One would expect to find such altruism welcomed with plaudits in Canadian literary circles. If the English are willing to sacrifice the pleasure and the instruction found in reading American literature for the benefit of one of the self-governing do-

Don't furnish your home, will you, until you have very carefully examined the beautiful Sun Set Fiber furniture, so ideal through out the country, which is sold at 745 South First St. at prices exceptionally interesting.

There are going to be many readers who will hail with delight the news that W. S. Heston of 1212 So. Figueroa St. has at last received those beautiful and very ultra Heratias and Karmac rugs $212, $112 and $112 in all Mr. Heston is asking for them.

Butter Scotch Pie—cup brown sugar, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 egg yolks, 1 cup milk. Cream butter, sugar and flour together. Scald milk and pour over dry ingredients. Cook in double boiler twenty minutes, stirring constantly until thickened. Add egg yolks slightly beaten and cook three minutes longer. Pour into a baked crust.

No wonder Los Angeles is growing by leaps and bounds. Women want to live here after visiting for a month. We have much to offer: a laundry such as The Crown, for instance. Is there one like it elsewhere? No. Because this laundry seems to take the same personal interest in your bundle of clothes as you would yourself. Oftentimes they take more, to judge by the high-class work they turn out. Do send your clothes to them this coming week, if only to bear out my statements.

The amount of heat saved by the use of double and triple saucers is obvious. They make two or three kettles boil where only one boiled before—and with very little increase in fuel consumption. Tightly clamped covers are a further point in economy.

Water Camp's "Daily Dozen" are quite the rage now. "The thing to do," you know, yet don't you realize that if you will double the amount of milk tickets left out for the L. A. Creamery man you will be taking a very sure way of improving your health. L. A. milk never requires an apology because it is never lacking in richness, each bottle shows a heavy cream, and we have every assurance that it is bottled with utmost care under the most modern improved methods of sanitation. When you know that their customers have patronized them for years, you realize that this creamery is worthy in every way and competent to serve you, so do give them a trial.

A few dates, steamed prunes or raisins cut into the cooked cereal a few minutes before serving is a delicious way to add iron to the diet.

Never confuse common ice with frozen cream. The former is but one another in outward appearance. If your first consideration is the proper care of your home and the health of your family, then you will never again be satisfied to use any other refrigerant. "Why?" you ask? Because frozen cream is the germ of absolutely eliminated food conductors such as mineral, vegetable and animal matter are destroyed and the melting liquid (meaning Frozen Cream) containing, as it does, myriads of interstices, is the greatest known absorbent for bacteria. It cleanses your box and leaves no sediment, such as ice does. Today send no later deliveries to leave your regular driver to stop at your house. Main 8463 is the phone number.

Codfish balls: two cups codfish; two cups mashed potatoes; one tablespoon butter; one-fourth cup cream or milk; salt; pepper. Soak codfish in cold water for one hour; drain and pick into small pieces. Then place in boiling water for fifteen minutes. Drain and mix with mashed potatoes, beaten egg, cream and butter; season with salt and pepper; shape into balls and fry in hot lard. Serve with apple sauce.

When it comes to ammonia for household purposes, there's only one genuine Domestic Cloudy Ammonia made, and that is Bobrick's. If you have ever tried it, you know that no other brand gives the satisfaction that Bobrick's does. If your regular grocer doesn't have it, ask him to get it for you—or go elsewhere and buy it. Nothing else is just as good.

Very few breakfast menus with muffins occasionally. There are bran, whole wheat, rolled oats, bread-crumbs and corn to work with. These may be varied by the addition of bits of candied fruits or raisins.

My word! You don't mean to say you dread the task of spring house cleaning? Why, didn't you know that we have here in Los Angeles a remarkable organization called the Acme Cleaners, who thoroughly clean and polish your carpets, Garret to Cellar in one day? They wash windows, of course, and clean and polish hardwood floors so well that they will look as though they were brand new. Pico 1450 is their telephone number.

BY CHEF. A. L. WYMAN

All of the country will hear of California next week, when the growers of our greatest and most delicious fruit celebrate prune week. California prunes are known and used the world over, but the prunes grown in the Santa Clara Valley, rich in natural sugar, packed in large, sanitary plants by healthy boys and girls, have done more to call attention to our wonderful fruit-growing possibilities than all of the real estate promoters' effusions. Prunes grown in California are rapidly taking the place of prunes grown in other countries in all of the better class of catering establishments, as they are richer in food value and have a finer flavor.

Many of our readers can remember when the boarding-house prune was a stock joke, and if they will follow the following recipes they will find that California prunes are not in the joke class.

PRUNE CONFECTION

Wash, dry and remove pits from California prunes. Fill the centers with marshmallow halves. Press together, brush with slightly beaten egg white and roll in shredded blanched and toasted almonds. Set in cool place to dry.

PRUNE CHARLOTTE RUSSE

Whip half a cup of thick cream and beat into it one tablespoon of sugar. Fill individual molds one-third full of mashed cooked prunes, line the rest of the mold with the halves of ladyfingers or thin slices of sponge cake, and fill with the whipped cream.

ROLLED OAT MACAROONS

Beat two eggs until light and gradually beat into them one cup of sifted sugar, one tablespoon of melted butter, one cup of chopped cooked prunes, two cups of rolled oats and one teaspoon of vanilla. Drop from a teaspoon on greased pans and bake a golden brown in a moderate oven.

PRUNE CUSTARD

Drain, pit and cut in quarters one-third of a cup of cooked prunes. Beat one egg and beat into two tablespoons of sugar; beat in one cup of hot water and add the prunes, pour into custard cups, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm in the center. Cool and unmold. Serve with chocolate sauce.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE

Place in a saucepan half a cup of prune juice, add one tablespoon of ground chocolate, half a teaspoon of butter, and cook five minutes.

BAKED PRUNES

One of the largest and most successful chains of dairy lunch-rooms in the world makes a specialty of baked prunes, and while in New York their commissary superintendent told me that they never boiled their prunes; they cover the prunes with cold water in a casserole and set them in a slow oven with the cover on the casserole for three hours. They are never allowed to boil; just kept hot. This brings out all of the sugar, and the prunes are plump and the skin is never broken.

HONEY SALAD DRESSING

H.M.T. City, asks that we publish a recipe for boiled honey salad dressing. Beat one egg and gradually beat into it three tablespoons of honey. Add one-quarter of a tablespoon of mustard, and a seasoning of salt and paprika. Mix well and add one-third of a cup of lemon juice. Place in a saucepan, bring to a boil and cook for five minutes, stirring constantly. Cool and add one cup of cream just before serving.

MOLDED CHICKEN

R.S. San Francisco, asks that we give directions for individual service of molded chicken. Boil one four-pound chicken with enough water to cover to which has been added one sliced carrot, one stalk of celery, and half an onion sliced. When chicken is tender and the meat will leave the bones remove from the pot and cut the meat in dice, separating the bones.

Chowders make a good one-dish dinner for Lent, plus corn bread and butter and a baked apple for dessert, perhaps.

Many rooms will require repapering as much because of the desire for a change and the new effects as from necessity.

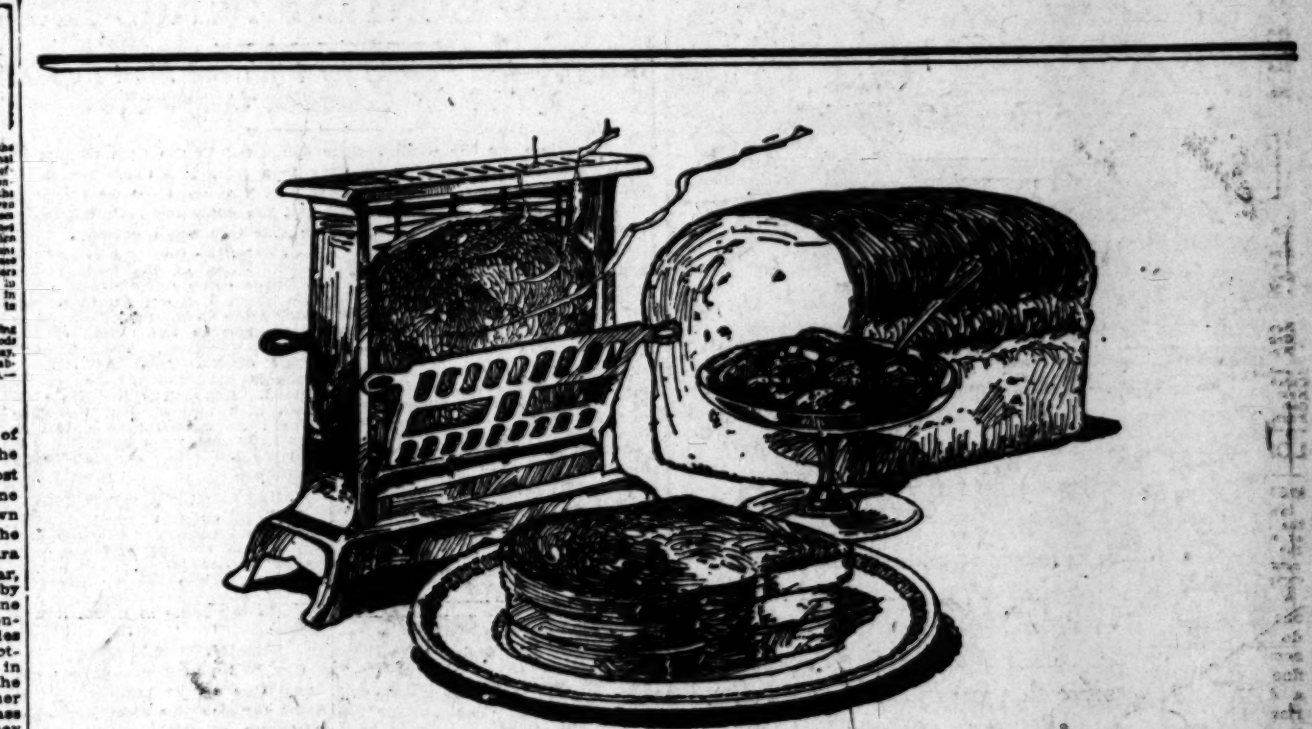

The breakfast room needs a gay paper, the "Salla" vivacity, as gay band box chins designs import and the kiddies' room would have a riot of fur with applique paper motifs which tell a story. All of these and heaps more Horace H. Mann carries in this "No-to-dates" shop, 2411 So. Vermont. His knowledge of the correct and artistic treatment of every room in a house should be all means impel you to seek his establishment when doing any redecorating.

If you haven't made cranberry preserves for spring, now is the time to do it.

As Omar the alchemist said, "Is not any waiting worth the while if in the end you reach the city of the golden fender?" That is the way one feels about a White Rotary, you may have been without a sewing machine for years but when you buy and use a White you feel that the sacrifice was worth it. These splendid "Electrical Seamstresses" may be bought on convenient terms at 917 So. Broadway. Better hurry and get in line. A White Machine is a necessity, not a luxury.

Forks are always placed at the left of the plate, knives at the right, and spoons at the right of the knives.

No trip downtown is complete to the woman who has three visits a day to plan without a visit to one of Young's Markets. You gather such splendid ideas which you make extremely practical by following them pronto and filling a bag, or basket, in the twinkling of an eye, with such palate-tempting vegetables as new asparagus, egg plants or squash, always fresh the same day as Young's.

Bread and the Children's Welfare

IT may never have occurred to you that good bread, such as HOLSUM bread, contains every element needed for the proper diet of children. Yet, this most economical food is often considered lightly and is seldom eaten often enough.

It contains carbohydrates, protein, iron, mineral salts and the vitamins found in milk. Medical authorities say that a deficiency of these elements is the cause of the malnutrition among school children—a condition affecting one child out of every three.

Malnutrition is easily overcome by proper feeding. Give your children more HOLSUM bread. Serve it to them in various ways, as toast for breakfast, milk toast, with milk or in puddings. Write for our recipe book giving forty new ways for serving HOLSUM. When ordering get HOLSUM—always—for "there's a difference in bread".

arating the dark and light meat. Strain the stock and add one cup of the cold stock and one tablespoon of gelatin dissolved in cold water and the bits of dark meat. Wet individual molds and fill half full with the mixture, set in the ice box and when the mixture is thick, remove. To the balance of the stock add one tablespoon of dissolved gelatin and the white meat of the chicken. Beat until stiff one cup of heavy cream and beat it into the white chicken jelly and fill the molds with the mixture. Place the molds in the ice box.

PRIZE RECIPES ARE PUBLISHED

"Times" Contest Winners are to be Congratulated

Lead Field Exceptional in Its Excellence

Popularity of Vegetables is Shown in Competition

The three winners in the fourth contest of The Times recipe contest, whose prize recipes are printed below, are to be congratulated on leading a field that was exceptional in its excellence and its variety. Vegetable dishes must be popular indeed in Southern California to judge by the outpouring of recipes submitted in this contest, and from the many good recipes received they well deserve their popularity.

All the recipes were carefully gone over and tested from many angles and to the judges it seemed that the following were the choices. They will appear in the book with the prize recipes of the other contests.

SPINACH SOUFFLE

First Prize
Melt two tablespoons of butter, add two tablespoons of flour and mix until smooth and frothy. Then one cup cold milk and stir until thick. To this add cup of finely chopped spinach, which has been cooked fifteen minutes in a little water, or if preferred, add a cup of spinach puree. When well mixed, add well-beaten yolks of three eggs, half teaspoon of salt and one-eighth of paprika. Beat the whites of three eggs until very stiff, fold in one-half teaspoon baking powder and carefully fold into the spinach mixture.

Four this mixture into buttered ring mold, set in pan of boiling water, bake thirty minutes in moderate oven without opening door. While it is cooking cream some sweetbreads that have already boiled sufficiently. When the souffle is done, open oven and to test run sharp knife through center: if blade comes out clean the souffle is done. Open oven and stand five seconds before unmolding, then turn out on round platter, fill the center of the ring with the creamed sweetbreads and send to table at once.

Grated carrots may be used in place of the spinach if preferred, but the latter makes the more delicate dish and will be found simple to prepare, delicious to taste and well worth the extra trouble.

—[M. M. Harris, Burlingame, Cal.]

BAKED STUFFED SQUASH

Second Prize
Cut about ten inches from the end of a banana squash, cutting at an angle. Scoop out seeds and stringy portions from this end and stuff with the following mixture. Two medium-sized potatoes, diced, one-third cup of rice, and one and one-half tablespoons of fat, small onion, chopped, one pound of chopped beef, one teaspoon salt, pepper, two-thirds can condensed tomato soup, and buttered crumbs.

Boil rice and potatoes in salted water until tender. Fry onions in fat until brown, add meat and cook until brown. Combine meat with rice and potatoes, adding tomato and seasonings. Fill squash, cover and with buttered crumbs and bake in moderate oven for three-fourths hour, or until squash is tender. Serve on platter surrounded by tomato sauce. —[Mrs. D. N. McLeod, 37 Center street, Redlands.]

POTATO VOLCANO

Third Prize
Pars, boil and mash as for mashed potatoes, six or seven good-sized potatoes, place in shallow baking dish, or pie dish. Mold in shape of miniature volcano with bowl of spoon. Make deep impression in top to represent crater. Pour over the top the following: Welsh rarebit and let it run down the sides to look like melted lava. Place in medium oven for five minutes and serve at once.

Welsh rarebit—One tablespoon butter, one teaspoon cornstarch, half-cup thin cream, one-quarter teaspoon salt, half-pound grated American cheese (mild), and one-quarter teaspoon mustard.

Melt butter, add cornstarch and stir until well mixed. Add cream gradually while stirring constantly. Cook two minutes. All cheese and stir until cheese is melted. It should be smooth and creamy. —[Helen Jackson, 2843 Walton avenue, Los Angeles.]

Culinary Graduate Asks
Divorce When Hubby
Can't be Pleased by Food

If you had spent several years in a middle-western university studying domestic science—

If you had learned all about calories and carbohydrates and balanced rations and soups and vitamins and salads—

If you had been considered good enough to teach a class in cooking and dietetics—

If your pupils raved about the food you prepared and all your friends envied your culinary skill—

If, under these circumstances, your husband criticized every dish that came upon the table and didn't like a thing that was set before him, wouldn't it annoy you?

Mrs. Julia M. Coffey, she said, was so annoyed, and asserting that such treatment of her by Thomas C. Coffey constituted cruelty, she won a divorce yesterday before Judge Summerfield in Superior Court. They were married in 1921 and separated last January when, she said, Coffey's objections to the menu became unbearable.

Coffey was jealous, too, she declared, even of her relatives. He forbade her taking lunch with her aunt, she said, and she had to break an engagement with her with no explanation, she added.

Heydler Predicts City Has Great Future

Harbor Unexcelled, Climate
Superb, He Says

Expects Prosperous Year for
All Amusements

Following a three-day visit with William C. Wrigley on Catalina Island, John Heydler, president of the National League of Baseball Clubs, together with Ben Johnson and Judge Landis, ruler of the national pastime in this country, had his first glimpse of motion pictures in the making yesterday. With Mrs. Heydler, with whom he is making a pleasure tour through Southern California, Mr. Heydler visited the Robertson-Cole Studios yesterday as the guest of P. A. Powers, managing director, and saw Wyndham Standing, Grace Darmond, and Ann Purdie being filmed in scenes for "Daytime Wives," which is being directed by Emile Chautard.

LIKES CALIFORNIA
"It is my first visit to California, but it will not be my last," Mr. Heydler said. "I am in love with this country. In fact, Mrs. Heydler is so enthusiastic about it that she is trying to persuade me to buy a home here and spend the rest of our days near the Pacific. After talking with Mr. Wrigley at Catalina and with a number of your leading bankers and other business men I quite agree with those who predict that in a few years Los Angeles will rank among the really great commercial centers of the world. Your harbor facilities are unexcelled. Your climate is superb."

"If it were not for my activities in baseball right now I would succumb to the beauties of Hollywood and settle among you."

SEES PROSPEROUS YEAR
"I expect this year to be a record-breaker in baseball and motion pictures as well. In fact, it should be a wonderful year in all amusements. I find that picture production is in full blast and that the policy of fewer and better pictures is the rule in most studios. If the picture industry is developed along those lines I do not see how it can fail to have a stupendous boom."

Mr. and Mrs. Heydler will leave for San Francisco where they will spend a week with friends before returning to New York.

GIRL'S SLAYER WILL FACE MURDER CHARGE

Louis Shapiro was held to answer a charge of murder yesterday in Justice Follette's court. He is accused of shooting and killing Rachel Golden, his former fiancée, and of wounding her mother and assaulting her father. Shapiro asserted, after his arrest, he had turned over $600 to the girl, who was 16 years of age, and that she had refused to marry him or return the money. His defense will be insanity.

MISS WILSON TO DIRECT FOR UNIVERSAL

To Produce All-Star Pictures With Baby Peggy at Head

ELISE JANE WILSON, a few years ago, one of the leading women directors of the cinema, again is to produce pictures.

Announcement was made last night that Miss Wilson, who in private life is the wife of Rupert Julian, will return to the Universal fold to direct Baby Peggy in a series of Jewel productions that will be produced under the supervision of her husband.

This announcement puts an end to the rumors that have been rife about Baby Peggy's new director and marks a new era in film history, for this director will make pictures that will be numbered among the biggest productions of the year. She will make three pictures annually with Baby Peggy featured in an all-star cast.

FIRST OF STORIES
The first of these stories will be an original by Rupert Julian, who recently played in the picture "Merry Go Round." Work on the first picture will start in a few weeks. In all of these productions Julian will act in an advisory capacity.

From 1915 until 1920 Miss Wilson was one of the leading Universal producers. She directed more than thirty feature pictures and a great number of short subjects. In addition to all-star pictures she played in a number of stars of that day, including Edna May, Ruth Clifford, Carmel Myers and others.

PLAYED STAR ROLE
Miss Wilson came to Los Angeles in 1914 to open Egan's Little Theater. The opening attraction was "The Pledge," by John Galsworthy, and in it she played the leading role of the flower girl. Later she played in the picture "The Affairs of Anatol" and "Come Home Smith."

In 1915 Miss Wilson entered pictures and began starring and directing for Universal. She remained with that company until 1920, when both she and her husband retired.

Australian by birth, she began her stage career when only 2 1/2 years of age. After many years' experience in Australia, she went to Africa, where she played in the principal parts; coming to the United States she played the title role in "Everywoman." Then she played the vamp in Kipling's "A Fool There Was."

HAS NEW IDEAS
"I'm elated over my return to pictures," said Miss Wilson last night, "and to think that I'm going to direct such a little troupe as Baby Peggy. During my years I have watched the progress of the cinema; it has progressed wonderfully and I believe am going to be able to introduce some new ideas."

I shall make only Jewel productions with all-star casts headed by Baby Peggy. Good pictures are not made in a hurry so I will take my time and make only three, possibly four, pictures a year."

Besides supervising his wife's pictures Julian has some important plans for himself which will be announced later.

OUT OF SILENCE

HELEN EDDY AMBITIOUS FOR NEW YORK STAGE

By Grace Kingsley

The ultimate goal of Helen Eddy is the New York stage, as she will admit to you any day. Therefore when she completes her coming week's engagement at Pantages in Ray Carroll's playlet, "Case Number 23," she is going to New York. Here she will look into a stage offer she has lately received for the spoken drama.

At the same time she will make a picture in the East, from a story written by Eve Unsell. The production is an elaborate one, will cost something like $100,000, and is to be an independent production, backed by San Francisco capital.

The story has a most unusual angle, declares Miss Eddy, yet is so deeply human as to have a universal appeal.

Miss Eddy has received a fine offer from both Pantages and Orpheum circuits to tour in "Case Number 23," but is keeping all decisions in abeyance until she finishes the New York picture.

Besides her Pantages appearance in person in the playlet, Miss Eddy will also appear in a picture at that theater, entitled "When Love Comes," and as though this were not enough, she also plays a leading role in the all-star cast of the Hobart Henley production of "The Phil" at the Kinema.

An unusual cast will surround Miss Eddy in her playlet, including the child wonder, Margaretta Curry, who fairly stole the play in the time she was on the stage in "Climbing" at the Majestic; Henry Hull, who formerly starred in "The Man from Home," Miss Rose Ransova, of the Moscow Art Theater, who played the mother role in "Hungry Hearts," and Blanche Rose, who appeared for many seasons in Paul Armstrong's play, "The Escape."

Barbara La Marr to New York

Having worked hard like a good little girl the past three years, and having therefore earned the right to a vacation, Barbara La Marr is to journey to New York after she finishes "The Law Bringers" for Mayer and has completed the role of the Lady Lou in Arthur Sawyer's production of "Dangerous Dan McGray," in which William Mack will play the name part.

This, of course, will bring Miss La Marr's visit to New York up to summertime, but it's something to look forward to, anyway.

Mr. Sawyer, head of Sawyer Productions, who has just come back from New York, reports that he received, as Miss La Marr's manager, no less than three large-salaried offers for Miss La Marr's services with leading film companies. He also received a stage offer for her.

And Miss La Marr does wish to return to the stage, but not for two or three years.

Hobart Henley Preparing

Hobart Henley is preparing his script for "A Lady of Quality," which is to be a Hobart Henley production made for Universal, and which promises to be one of the most beautiful costume plays of the year. Virginia Valli will have the lead.

Come to Yosemite

If you are popular a star as Constance Talmadge, and are capable a director as Sid Franklin, you can almost choose your own background for your story.

So Miss Talmadge and Franklin have selected to make "Dulcy" in Yosemite. This will be Miss Talmadge's first trip there, she being rather an urban young lady, fond of the bright lights. The star has been learning to ride, horseback of late, having used for the art in her picture.

"I've always been scared to death of horses," said Miss Talmadge, "though I admit I twist rather a mean wheel on an automobile. Even now I don't dare sit away from my riding teacher when I'm mounted. Soon all the horses I suppose, will be in the zoological gardens, and I wanted to learn to ride while it's still being done."

There's a dramatic little legend of an Indian girl who threw herself over the Yosemite falls when she lost her lover, and Franklin is going to put it into "Dulcy" for good measure.

Hayakawa in O'Neill Play

"If at first you don't succeed, try again," is Sessue Hayakawa's motto apparently. So, even though the play in which the Shuberts lately produced him in the east was not a success, he is to have another play also produced by the Shuberts, according to Mrs. Hayakawa, who received a telephone communication from her husband from New York on Wednesday night.

"Eugene O'Neill, author of 'The Hairy Ape,' and other notable plays, is to write a drama for my husband for next year," said Mrs. Hayakawa. "Sessue and he are talking it over now. I do not know what the play is he is going to rehearse now."

Mrs. Hayakawa is to leave for New York to join her husband next Wednesday. She has not seen him since last October, when he went back to try his fortunes on the stage after seven years in pictures.

Bert Lytell to Film

Neither Bert Lytell's sword nor his art of fencing is to be allowed to grow rusty, if the picture producers have anything to say about it.

Following the close of his work in his present picture, "The Meanest Man in the World," Lytell is to go to New York to appear in "Under the Red Robe" and "A Gentleman of France" for Cosmopolitan.

Mrs. Lytell, known professionally as Evelyn Vaughan, is to be with her husband in New York and she will leave next week for the East, whether he will follow as soon as he finishes work here.

"I've since to, I have said to Lytell," said Lytell, "whenever there's any fencing to be done, the producers seem to say, 'Where's Lytell? He kills them good! So I don't suppose I shall ever get out of costume plays.'"

During his stay in the East, Lytell expects to appear at the Palace in New York in "The Valiant," the playlet which he put on here at the Orpheum. Following his picture work in New York, he and Mrs. Lytell expect to return here, to appear together in a play which he has in mind.

Domestic Note

Ella Hall, who in private life is the wife of Emory Johnson, director, has retired from professional life to await the coming of the stork. Mr. and Mrs. Emory have two children at present.

Many New Citizens

Twenty-four aliens were admitted as American citizens yesterday by U. S. District Judge Trippett. They were divided by nationalities as follows: Subjects of Great Britain, 11; Germany, 3; Russia, 2; Hungary, 2; and one each from Italy, Rumania, Sweden, Netherlands, Norway and Slovakia.

Elaborate sets are being built at United Studios, and actual shooting will commence on Monday.

Charles Ray, whose second United Artists production, "The Girl I Love," based upon James Whitcomb Riley's poem of that name, will be shown at the Mission Theater next Wednesday, announces that he will give a personal present to the winner of an essay contest in the form of an autographed copy of a handsomely illustrated edition of the Riley poem and with the name of the winner inscribed by him.

The contest is open to all school children. A 300-word essay on Riley as a poet, his place in American literature, and among American poets, is the text.

Answers must be sent to the Mission Theater essay editor. While "The Girl I Love" is not yet published in the regular printed editions of the poet's works, a copy may be had upon application to the Mission essay editor.

Music in its most charming aspect predominated at the concert of the Los Angeles Chamber Music Society last night at Gamut Club Theater. The program introduced but one novelty, and was an admirably disclosing of the broad aims of the local society.

Two movements of the Warner quartet were rendered by Messrs. Noack, Sydovsky, Peric and Bronson, and were given with warmth and sympathy. The work itself is very attractive, with a trace of the more modern idioms here and there, and otherwise interesting in harmonic content. It is not a deeply impressive work to be sure, but it has color and a certain picturesqueness that satisfies.

The Dvořak piano quintet with the second or D minor movement was an especial feature. The melodies in this are of a loveliness indescribable, and the composer has not been in the least sparing of credit, nor has he hesitated constantly to heighten their color and beauty. The playing of this movement made up for certain slight technical deficiencies elsewhere. Except for a possible flaw here and there it was rather exquisitely done. A little stronger unity in the ensemble and more finesse are what is most needed in the organization, although they have achieved most creditable performances of the various works that they give.

The "String Quartet in E Minor," by Beethoven, is a test for an ensemble and perhaps to a certain extent for the listener, because of its rather strict classical style. At the same time it is a worthy inclusion on a program, and was played with taste by the musicians of the quartet.

DIRECTOR, LEADING WOMAN, BOTH ENGAGED

By Edwin Schallert

The list of directors have been increased by one, and the number of stars has been similarly added to at the Famous Players-Lasky studio, through the fact that Jarow Storm and Estelle Taylor have respectively just been engaged and more recently of such all-star (or more properly no-star) features as "The Roarers," etc.

Theodore Kosloff will also have a featured role, while Robert Cain, Ricardo Cortez and others will be in the supporting cast. The story of the picture contrasts the hectic phases of modern life with those somewhat less hectic in the past.

Mr. Storm for a long time was director of Charles Ray productions, and more recently of such all-star (or more properly no-star) features as "The Roarers," etc.

It is with a new face, marvelously beautiful, that the public sees her as the treacherous "Bella Donna." Also, for the first time, Miss Negri appears before the camera in up-to-date frocks which display the grace and lovely carriage of this new Paramount star.

Walter Hiers is in San Francisco for public appearances but will return in time to start work March 26 under the direction of Rob Wagner in the third and tentatively titled "Fair Weeks." This is an original by Walter Woods, who will also serve as production editor.

This will be the first appearance of Mr. Wagner as a director although he has been building up for that very work through many years' association with the people of the screen.
